

VILLA DENDY

ATHENS RIVIERA

DESCRIPTION & FEATURES

Located at Saronida, one of the most loved areas of the Athenian Riviera, this villa bears the aristocratic essence of decades, that Saronida has been one of the most favourite resorts for both Athenians and foreign visitors for their summer escapes. Less than an hour from the centre of Athens and the summer feeling is immense. Multiple cafes, restaurants and bars, open-air cinemas, large parks, beautiful beaches and squares and the Temple of Poseidon at Sounion less than 30' away.

The villa's interior design successfully blends the '60s style, when it comes to vast spaces, wooden surfaces, wooden built-in sofas, straight lines, along with a country chic touch and modern influences. The walls on the building's façade have not been replaced from the huge, floor-to-ceiling glasses that let the natural light and the surrounding nature flood its interiors. Stunning views to the sea, a large veranda perched right above the sea and the sunset is your own to enjoy.

The main house hosts a vast living room with fireplace, a dining area and a large, fully-equipped kitchen along with a master en-suite bedroom and 3 more double or twin bedrooms that share two bathrooms. The guest house boasts a separate entrance and is a fully autonomous home for two people with a double en-suite bedroom, a spacious living room and a kitchenette. Exiting the main house's living room, you will find yourself near the charming pool lounge with shaded dining area, grass patios with pool loungers and the 12.5 x 6m salt-water pool, all embraced by high pine and cypress trees and climbing plants.
